The Pure Food Exposition, which has attracted so much attention in the western and middle States, will open at the Masonic Temple, Broad and Adams streets, on Monday evening, November 5th. The exposition will last two weeks.

All kinds of pure food will be on exhibition, and samples will be given away by thousands. The booths will be handsomely and artistically decorated, and at each the vistors will have an opportunity to test the quality of the goods prepared by the danity hands of preity young ladies. A special feature of the exhibition will be practical lessons on cooking every afternoon by Miss Le A. Willis, principal of the Baltimore Cooking School, assisted by Miss E. M. Wilsey, of New York. This part of the exposition is of incalculable value to the ladies, who, if they do not have to cook their own meals, are always ready to learn new methods of preparing food economically and to please the tastes of the lords of the household.

The Expositon has never been held in the South, and a rare treat awaits the citizens of Richmond, at which the first exhibition of a six months southern circuit will begin. The Exposition has been in progrees two weeks in Baltimore, at the Cyclorama building, with an average attendance of 3,000 persons a day. Concert's by Stein's band, of Richmond, will be given every afternoon and evening.

THERE WAS NO APOLOGY.

So Says Manager Bowers of the Rich. mond Foot.Ball Team,

Richmond College, October 20th.

Editor Times: The telegram in The Times of this morning from Mr. J. A. Penton, captain of the University of Virginia foot-ball team, does injustice to me as well as to the members of the College team. I have made no statement that I intended as an apology for any College man connected with the football game of Thursday. When I went to Murphy's Hotel Thursday ingth, I did not expect to meet any University men there, as they were stopping at the Davis House, and as Mr. Polk Miller had Invited them to his entertainment, which took place that night, I supposed they were at the Theatre. However, I did, unexpectedly, noet Mr. Johrson, between whom and myself our relations as managers of the respective teams have been of a most pleasant nature, and in the course of a casual conversation I expressed regret that there had been any unpleasant occurrences connected with the game, and the hope that they would not produce any bad feeling between the two institutions. I made no special ref-Richmond College, October 20th.

blew for the down, and then I turned him loose. A foul tackle is when a man intentionally tackles a man below the knees or around the neck. I did hat intentionally tackles Mr. Madd below the knees, but I tackled him above the knees, was knocked down by the luterference. It may hold with one hand, as explained above, and my other hand, slipped down. This is still a fair tackle, for a foul hold, started fair on a down, is not a foul tackle.

I was present when the conversation took place between Messrs, Ainsile and Salinde, and, as far as my recollection goes, the above is a correct version.

NOTES.

Dr. Charles W. Loos, president of the Centucky University, who is also president. Dr. Charles W. Loos, president of the Kentucky University, who is also president of the Foreign Missionary Board of the denomination, arrived yestering, and was a prominent figure in the convention. He is the suest of Rev. Dr. J. C. Huien. The hours of the convention are earlier than is the custom in Richmond, but they have proven very convenient to the large number of members scattered over the city and suburis. The delegates get their meals down town, and the Woman's Christian Association dining room has proven a great convenience to them, being in one square of the church on Franklin street. They are serving breakfast, dinner and supper for the delegates at a very moderate cost.

Among the delegates is Rev. C. S. Lucas, of Alleghany, Pa. He is a native Virginian, and formerly had charge and built the church at Lynchburg. He has revenity recovered from a severe spell of fever, and will shortly go to Europe and Palestine on a health tour.

Rev. I. J. Spencer, now of Kentucky, affectionately remembered in Richmond and Manchester, is also here, and is being warmly greeted by a host of friends of all denominations.

The Christian Endeavor rally will last only one hour. It will open and close promptly to the minute.

The big Exposition building yesterday, though deserted so far as pleasure seekers were concerned, presented a lively appearance. Lattae numbers of people were out at the grounds, and any number of workmen were bushly engaged in taking down and removing exhibits, and getting into shape for taking away their goods and chartels. Tents were being lowered, and stands loaded for removal It will be several days, however, before the machinery and much of the heavy ware can be removed.

The decorations in the Chesteffeld and Bedford county exhibits will remain in-Virginia Exposition, Exposition Other exhibitors left their booths or stands, so as to use them next time.

Secretary William G. Owens and President Wood, of the Virginia Agricustural Society, have been complimented on all sides as officers of the Exposition. I have heard many flattering comments upon their enterprise and courtesy. They certainly did everything within the power of two men to make the affair a success. They succeeded. I have seen no one who did not agree that the Exposition was a conspicuous success, and reflected great credit upon the management as well as on the city of Richmond.

Secretary Owens dismissed his temporary clerical force yesterday, and will do the rest of the work connected with the Exposition unassisted. He has been exceedingly busy for the past three weeks, and has a great deal of business to transact during the coming fortnight. He has paid out between $5.00 and $7.00 already in the way of premiums, and he will commence to write up the books tomorrow, so as to pay out the rest of the premiums as rapidly as possible. This work will be completed in the course of two or three weeks.

Quite a number of the side shows and out-of-town exhibits will be taken from Richmond to the North Carolina State Fair, which commences in Raleigh next Tuesday.

he sold by the executor, Henry Grimmell, Esq., at public auction to-morrow at 1 o'clock P. M. It fronts about 65 feet on Marshall street and about 54 feet on Sixth street, and, by reason of its proximity to the market, and the large and certain revenue derived from it, is justly regarded as one of our most desirable properties. The advertisement of the sale, by Messrs, J. B. Elam & Co., auctioneers, will be found in the real estate columns of this paper, and the same firm will sell on Wednesday afternoon, 24th instant, under deeds of trust, two valuable pieces of Broad-street property, Nos. 918 and 919, near the City Hall.
